rest until a series of questions directed to Mr. Churchill had been answered.

In one question, Goebbels declared that the British destroyer "Athens" was the chief target of the German attack.

"How could you say, Mr. Churchill, that the Athens was the chief target when you know it went down under the fire of three British destroyers?"

Goebbels also asked:

"How can you contend the British government is not interested in the fate of the vessel remained in the hands of the enemy?"

Mr. Churchill replied that the British government was not interested in the fate of the vessel remained in the hands of the enemy.

Britain's Air Force Behind Maginot Line Is Ready for Quick Action

By GORDON ANDERSON

WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE (Paris, N. A. S. Press), Oct. 23.—In the mud-plains behind the Maginot line where the rain has poured for nearly a week, I inspected the headquarters of the advanced post of the Royal Air Force.

Concealed among the foliage of a spot from the main road, which probably could not have been discerned from above.

SPACED WELL APART

Outside the commander's tent, the camouflaged planes stood ranged over the muddy surface of the flying field, spaced well apart so that in event of an attack no more than one machine could be disabled by a single bomb.

The commander, a native of Tasmania, was leaning over a desk making of pocket cases writing a letter home.

Inviting me to sit down on a bench in his tent he said "There's little to do but wait. I am trying to teach the men the art of footfall on the muddy aerodrome but they can't play footfall all day."

Most British have wireless sets and some fliers brought their darts.

SOCRED CAUSE VITAL ISSUE PREMIER SAYS

Stresses Service To Mankind—Monetary Policy
Said Inasane

Cause for which Social Credit stands is more important and more vital to the welfare of all mankind than even your comfort, quietness of mind and the appreciation of your fellows," Premier William Aberhart declared in addressing the Edmonton Protestant Bible conference at the Strand theatre on Sunday night.

The meeting was sponsored by the St. Elmo group of this city, which the speaker said was one of the most progressive groups in the city.

Topic of the service, as suggested by the group, was "Service to the community." Premier Aberhart said that the service to the community is the goal of all our endeavours.

INSANE SYSTEM
"To all Social Creditors whom this broadcast will reach we send our warmest and deepest sympathy for the collective endeavours which will remain unimpaired and steadfast until the present insane monetary system is replaced."

MUSIC FESTIVAL DATES SELECTED AT CITY PARLEY

Meeting at Alberta College on Saturday the Edmonton and District Music Festival Committee arranged for the holding of the 1940 music festival during the week of May 6. It was announced that the Alberta province must be held Tuesday, May 14 to Saturday, May 18.

Dr. W. W. Hamilton, vice-chairman of the local committee, was in the chair.

The official report was received from the 14th annual convention of the Canadian Music Association, which was held during the summer.

As a result of the provincial festival will be Dr. C. H. Moody of Regina, Sask., and Dr. J. H. Naylor of Cambridge, Eng. For the district event, the committee proposes to approach Arthur J. Macdonald, president of the Canadian Music Association, to act as adjudicator in the vocal and instrumental classes.

Mr. Macdonald, who is now at the Royal College of Music, London, will lead his own orchestra at Vancouver. He has acted as adjudicator here in the past.

It was decided to include a madrigal class in the festival.

Mr. C. H. Moody was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate feasibility of presenting the festival.

ALBERTA AUTHOR EXPRESSES LIFE FRENCH-CANADIAN

Among the major contributions to French-Canadian literature are the words of an Alberta author, Georges Bugnet, of Lake Macquarie, according to Mr. Camille Roy, vice-president and professor of Canadian literature at Laval University. The statement was made during an address given by Mr. Roy to the French-Canada committee meeting in the Macdonald hotel last week.

Author of "La Voie de Solitude" (The Voice of Solitude) and "La Forêt" (The Forest), Mr. Bugnet, who lives in the Alberta town, approximately 30 miles northwest of Edmonton, and who writes of the French life in Alberta, has presented "perhaps one of the best expressions of the French Canadian interpretation of ideas, rather than of sentiment," said Mr. Roy.

HEAVIEST SNOW FOR SEASON IS WEATHER REPORT

Up to 115 mm. Monday, three inches of snow had fallen in Edmonton, and the wet, heavy flakes were being driven by a 10-mph wind from the north.

Heaviest snowfall of the season which followed lower temperatures Saturday and Sunday brought Indian summer to a halt.

No change, read the local forecast. General forecast for Alberta predicted strong winds with snow and rain and colder weather over northern portion.

Snow was general over all parts of the province, according to reports from stations reported this morning. Northern areas were being blanketed under fresh falls as the day night.

Roads everywhere were affected by the change in weather. Dirt roads were reduced to variable quagmires and main highways and city streets were sloppy and slippery.

Highest temperature registered in Edmonton Sunday was 41 above at 6 a.m. Temperature dropped during the day and night.

Cause Fatality
Jury Decision

John Baker appeared in city police court on a charge of manslaughter Monday morning, and was granted an adjournment of eight days.

An open verdict was returned by the jury inquiring into the circumstances surrounding the death of Christian Holm, Chavuis district resident, who was killed in an accident on the Cooking Lake trail, October 17. The inquest was held Saturday in Hainstock and Baker's attorney declared that Holm died of multiple injuries received when Baker's auto, in which he was a passenger, overturned after it had gone into the ditch alongside the Cooking Lake trail, about seven miles out of the city, while en route to Edmonton.

Saker, giving evidence, told the jury that he was driving about 20 miles per hour when the car seemed to take a soft shoulder of the road. "I tried to pull it back, but it would not and it kept on till it could do it pulled off into the ditch. Then, I tried to pull it out of the ditch and it rolled over," he testified. He broke down and cried under the strain of the tragic incident of the occasion.

Joe Salvo, another passenger in the car, told the jury that he saw down as though it had lost its control and rolled over. "I saw the car go over," he testified. The jury, after a deliberation of about 15 minutes, returned a verdict of manslaughter.

REDUCTION IN VOTING MEETS NOW PROPOSED

Eight Campaign Gatherings
Is Plan For City
Elections

Civic election campaign committee will recommend to the city council tonight that the number of pre-election campaign meetings be reduced this year to eight, the lowest number in years.

Council approval will be asked for a schedule of eight meetings, two each of four nights. Heavy attendance at the meetings in recent years decided the adherents to reduce the number.

It was also pointed out that speeches are recorded in the press and that independent organizations often invite candidates to address the public.

Last year the number of meetings was 16, two on each of five nights, and 10 on each of five nights. This year, the number of meetings was 16, three on each of five nights.

Sudeten Refugee Families Find Freedom And Opportunity In Canadian Northwest

Sudeten refugees have carved out their homes at Peace River, Canada.

PEACE RIVER COLONY.
B. C. Oct. 23.—While death and oppression stalk their homeland, 512 Sudeten refugees are finding a new life of peace here in the vastness of eastern British Columbia.

Since the first of their number arrived in April of this year, 152 families have fled the terrors of Central Europe to discover the freedom and freshness of Canadian frontier regions.

These new-day "pioneers" are saved the dangers and some of the difficulties faced by the adventurer who, armed up, moved to their new homes in mass.

They have had expert guidance and modern tools to assist them in erecting their new homes, in breaking virgin soil to their crops for their first winter's food supply in their adopted homelands.

They are becoming established on a co-operative basis. With the aid of the Canadian government, they have erected two schools where the common language of their new continent will be taught to their 300 children this winter. About the time the schools will be in operation, the refugees will be able to send their children to the public schools of the area.

It is from this fund that the new community has been established here, at Tupper Creek near the Alberta border, in what is known as the Peace River section of the agricultural land.

Here are more than 500 German-speaking Central Europeans, mostly German, with some Czechs and a few Jewish people who escaped the terror of Hitler's storm troops. They were mostly residents of western regions of Czechoslovakia who were sympathetic to the Nazi regime.

Some were members of the German Democratic Party, anti-British and anti-Nazi.

They have worked together to till the common fields, to erect artificial shelter for themselves, their animals and their crops. Together

Czech, German factory workers became Canadian farmers.

While Czechoslovakia still remained independent, arrangements were made for the refugees to be sent to the British-French line for the purpose of assisting them in their new life. Transportation in Canada and the cost of their settlement was paid from the fund through the Canadian government.

Some were rejected while others were accepted as Czechoslovakia was an independent nation. They were to be given the same rights as Canadian citizens in the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways.

Most of them, however, escaped from their homeland after the war. They were mostly residents of western regions of Czechoslovakia who were sympathetic to the Nazi regime. Some were members of the German Democratic Party, anti-British and anti-Nazi.
